

Readers make Predictions, make Connections and ask Questions WHILE they read.

Connections:

Good readers are always connecting their reading to what they know.

Text to Self

Text to Text

Text to World.

Predictions:

We include information from the book to make inbound connections.

We use the cover and the blurb.

We use what we know about the author.

We use what we know and learn about the characters.

I think _____ will happen because _____.

Questions:

Good readers are always thinking when they read. They have questions while they read. They say what part of the book makes them think about those questions.

I wonder why...

I wonder who...

I wonder how...

I wonder if...

I wonder what...

I wonder when...

I wonder where...

For your reading at home book, you may write about your connections, predictions, and questions. Make sure you use complete sentences and include information from the TEXT stating why you think that way. You must write 2 connections, 2 predictions and 2 questions, more is always welcome.
